

2023 Nonresident General Tags and Tags Allocated to Outfitters

To be used in conjunction with the Idaho Big Game 2023 Seasons & Rules Brochure

idfg.idaho.gov

To use this supplement:

This supplement provides tag quotas and limits by location for general-season elk, regular deer, and white-tailed deer tag types. It is intended to be used as a cross reference with the Idaho Big Game Seasons and Rules brochure, which specifies hunt seasons and boundaries, as well as wildlife laws and other useful information. Visit idfg.idaho.gov/rules/big-game to view the brochure.

Nonresident tag limits published here were set using the previous year's (2022) seasons and rules. Big game seasons for 2023 will be set by the Idaho Fish and Game Commission in March 2023. The Fish and Game Commission retains emergency authority to modify or eliminate hunts within the season-setting cycle. Nonresident tag limits may change for the 2023 season in response to the 2023 season setting process.

Please verify that your hunt has not been changed or eliminated when the Idaho Big Game 2023 Seasons and Rules brochure is published in April 2023.

Definitions:

Cap: The total number of resident, nonresident, and outfitter elk tags available by capped elk zone.

Limit: The total number of nonresident tags available by unit for deer or uncapped zone for elk.

Quota: The total number of nonresident deer or elk tags available statewide.

Idaho Nonresident Deer and Elk Tags

Nonresident General Season Hunts (including capped elk zones)

Nonresident hunters in general-season deer and uncapped elk zone hunts are limited to 10 or 15 percent of the total hunters in each game management unit or elk zone. Some backcountry deer units have been limited to the five-year average number of nonresidents where overall hunter numbers have been relatively low. When purchasing a nonresident tag, the buyer must choose the unit or zone from those available.

The statewide nonresident general-season quota for elk is 12,815 and 15,500 for deer (14,000 regular deer or white-tailed deer tags and 1,500 white-tailed deer tags to be made available for sale when the initial 14,000 tags are sold out).

Nonresident Capped Elk Zones

Tags are limited for both residents and nonresidents in capped elk zones. When caps are implemented to restrict the number of tags within a zone, the total number of tags under the new cap is allotted proportionally among resident hunters, nonresident hunters, and outfitted hunters based on historical participation in the zone. Subsequent changes to the overall cap are applied proportionately.

To view real-time tag availability, sign into the online purchase site GoOutdoorsIdaho.com.

Nonresident Controlled Hunts

For controlled hunt tag numbers and nonresident information, see Idaho Big Game 2023 Seasons and Rules, published in April, 2023. Visit idfg.idaho.gov/rules/big-game.

Tags Allocated to Outfitted Hunters

Deer and elk tags are allocated for outfitted hunters in general-season hunts, capped elk zones, and controlled hunts. A portion of the statewide general-season nonresident quotas for deer and elk are set aside for allocation to outfitted hunters for general-season hunts. Currently, 1,985 deer tags and 2,900 elk tags are set aside to be allocated. The 2,900 elk tags include capped elk zones.

Outfitter Tags - General-season Hunts (including capped elk zones)

General-season deer and elk tags are allocated for use by outfitted hunters based on the highest outfitted use in each deer unit or uncapped elk zone in 2020 and 2021. Allocation in capped elk zones is based on the proportion of resident, nonresident, and outfitter participation at the time the cap was implemented.

Remaining tags will be made available as a first tag for nonresidents or as a second tag at nonresident prices for both residents and nonresidents for use in units or zones where the Fish and Game Commission has not restricted use of second tags. Tags remain subject to the overall nonresident quota and limits on individual units and zones for nonresidents.

Outfitter Tags - Controlled Hunts

Tags allocated to outfitted hunters in controlled deer and elk hunts are available only to persons that have entered into a signed agreement for the services of a licensed outfitter. Tag numbers are set at the level of the individual controlled hunt.

Unsold and/or returned controlled-hunt tags allocated to outfitters are not sold or otherwise made available for purchase by the general public.

Additional Information

The 2023 hunting seasons and rules will be approved in March 2023 and posted on IDFG's website in April of 2023 (idfg.idaho.gov/big-game). It is the tag holder's responsibility to know the rules for the tag they have purchased, including season dates and restrictions. IDFG will contact tag holders only if the tag holder's hunt is eliminated entirely and inform them of available options.

For complete laws and rules, see Idaho laws and administrative code idfg.idaho.gov/title36 and adminrules.idaho.gov/rules/current/13/.

REGULAR DEER

Regular deer tags available to nonresidents and outfitters by unit.

Nonresident tags in all units will be considered “sold out” if/when the statewide quota is reached. Refer to the Idaho Big Game 2023 Seasons & Rules for Regular Deer seasons and hunt boundaries.

CHRONIC WASTING DISEASE UPDATE

Hunting in a CWD Management Zone

Chronic wasting disease (CWD) testing is required for deer, elk, and moose harvested in a designated Idaho CWD management zone (Units 14 and 15 as of October 2022) within 10 days of harvest.

Should I get my deer, elk or moose tested for CWD if I didn't harvest in Units 14 or 15?

- Yes, if you harvest in a unit adjacent to Units 14 or 15.
- Yes, if you harvest a deer, elk, or moose in any unit that borders Montana, Wyoming, or Utah.
- Yes, if you harvest in a unit included in the current rotation strategy for CWD sampling. See idfg.idaho.gov/cwd/sampling for a map of units or contact a regional office.
- Yes, if you hunt in any other units and are concerned about whether your deer, elk, or moose may be infected with CWD.

Transporting game from CWD areas

It is unlawful to transport deer, elk, or moose out of a designated CWD management zone (currently Units 14 and 15). However, there are exceptions for meat and some other animal parts. See idfg.idaho.gov/cwd/rules or the Idaho Big Game 2023 Seasons and Rules booklet for details.

For up-to-date CWD information and sampling instructions go to idfg.idaho.gov/cwd

NONRESIDENT LIMITS AND LICENSES COMMON QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Nonresident Licenses and Tags

Question: I am a nonresident, wanting to purchase a tag during the Nonresident tag sale on December 1st. How should I purchase my tag? What information should I know about how this sale operates?

Answer: Nonresident tags are available for purchase beginning at 10 am Mountain time on December 1st. Hunters logging in online will be entered into the virtual waiting room up to 30 minutes prior to the sale, and will be assigned a place in line once the sale begins. There is no advantage to logging in at any particular time prior to the sale, but be mindful that any customer entering the site after 10 am will be placed at the end of the line. Note that each hunter will need to log into their own customer account to purchase a tag, and that the ability to purchase multiple tags under the same customer account is not currently available. Tags may also be purchased in-person at our license vendor locations (license.gooutdoorsidaho.com/Licensing/LocateAgent.aspx), at IDFG regional offices idfg.idaho.gov/offices, or over the phone at 1-800-554-8685.

Question: How will I know if there are tags available to nonresidents?

Answer: Customers can view real-time availability by signing in to the online purchase site GoOutdoorsIdaho.com and selecting a deer or elk tag for purchase. The number of available tags by unit (deer) and zone (elk) will be displayed. Sold out units and zones will indicate “sold out.” There are also statewide nonresident tag quotas for elk and deer. When the statewide quota is reached, tags will show as “sold out”.

IDFG will also post weekly updates about nonresident tag availability on IDFG’s website at idfg.idaho.gov/tag/quotas-nonresident.

Question: Can the nonresident limits for deer tags by unit and elk tags by zone increase or decrease?

Answer: Yes. Any change to limits requires a decision from the Idaho Fish and Game Commission. The limits will be evaluated during the big game season setting cycle.

Question: What happens if my season is changed or eliminated when the Idaho Fish and Game Commission sets season and tag limits in March 2023?

Answer: It is your responsibility to know the rules for the tag you have purchased, including season dates and restrictions. IDFG will contact you only if your hunt is eliminated entirely and inform you of available options.

Question: What tag options do I have if I am a nonresident Disabled American Veteran (DAV)?

Answer: Beginning in the 2021 season, nonresident DAV priced tags are limited to 500 deer tags, and 300 elk tags. Once those 800 tags have been sold, DAV license holders can purchase available general nonresident tags at the nonresident price.

Question: What requirements are there for Junior Mentored hunting tags?

Answer: Junior Mentored tag holders, age 10 to 17, must be accompanied by a licensed adult aged 18 or older. The licensed adult must have a valid current year tag, for the same species as the Junior Mentored tag holder. See the current Big Game Seasons and Rules for additional details on youth hunt information.

Question: Will there be a difference between archery, any weapon, and muzzleloader tags?

Answer: Some deer and elk tags have archery, muzzleloader, and/or general weapon seasons that should be reviewed within the current Big Game Seasons and Rules brochure prior to purchase. Some tags may require a hunter to purchase an additional archery or muzzleloader permit, which allows the hunter to hunt in seasons limited by weapon type.

Question: Are controlled hunt tags for nonresidents part of the nonresident limits by deer unit and elk zones?

Answer: No. Tags for nonresidents who successfully draw a controlled hunt are not counted as part of the nonresident quota, and they are not part of the limits placed on deer units and uncapped elk zones for nonresidents. However, nonresidents are limited to 10% of the overall tags in controlled hunts.

Outfitted Hunt Questions

Question: How do I obtain the services of an outfitter?

Answer: You should contact the outfitter directly to inquire about hunts. The Idaho Outfitters and Guides Licensing Board provides an online search function of outfitters by species hunted and hunt area at idfg.idaho.gov/ifwis/ioglb/.

Question: Does the outfitter provide the deer or elk tag? Can I hire an outfitter even if I already have a tag?

Answer: The outfitter may be able to provide hunters with outfitter-allocated deer and elk tags depending on what each individual outfitter has available. Outfitters may also offer services to hunters who have bought their own tags; contact outfitters for your tag area to discuss specific arrangements.

Nonresident Tags Sold Out, Refunds & Exchange Questions

Question: Do I have to purchase my license before I try to buy a limited tag, or can I purchase both at the same time?

Answer: Customers may purchase a license and tag at the same time. License fees cannot be refunded, per Idaho rule, even if you are unable to purchase your desired tag. IDFG encourages you not to pre-purchase a license, and instead purchase the license during your tag transaction.

Question: I haven't purchased my license or tag yet. Do I need to add my license to my shopping cart before I add my tag?

Answer: Yes, you will need to add your license prior to adding a tag to your cart. If you select a tag first, the system will prompt you to choose a license, then you can proceed to the tag selection portion of your purchase.

Question: I have never purchased a license in Idaho before, but want to compete for a limited tag. What information will I need to provide?

Answer: It is recommended that you complete your profile setup before nonresident tags go on sale to expedite your checkout process. Required information includes your name, address, gender, eye color, hair color, height, weight, email address, last 4 digits of your social security number (other documentation is also accepted such as Travel Visa, non-US driver license, passport, tax ID & green card), hunter education number with issuing state, and phone number.

Question: Will I get a refund on my license and tag if the rest of my hunting party cannot get a tag for the same area?

Answer: No refund on the license is available. A refund of a portion of the tag fee may be available, depending on the date the refund is requested. Details on refund requests can be found at idfg.idaho.gov/licenses/forms/nonresident-refund.

Question: Will I get a refund on my license and tag if I got the wrong zone/unit and cannot exchange the tag for the area I want?

Answer: No refund on the license is available. A refund of a portion of the tag fee may be available, depending on the date the refund is requested. Details on refund requests can be found at: idfg.idaho.gov/licenses/forms/nonresident-refund.

Question: How do I request a refund on my tag?

Answer: Refund requests must be mailed in with the tag and a refund request form. See idfg.idaho.gov/licenses/forms/nonresident-refund for details on requesting a refund.

Question: What are my options if I do not get the tag for the area I want?

Answer: A hunter can apply for a controlled hunt, Super Hunt, select a different available unit or zone, or try to purchase a tag for the desired area if one is returned to IDFG through a returned tag sale. Hunters must have a valid hunting license to apply for controlled hunts. No license is required to purchase a Super Hunt application. More information on returned tag sales can be found at idfg.idaho.gov/tag/returns.

Question: Will I still be able to exchange my tag from one zone/unit to another?

Answer: Yes, exchanges are available for a fee, subject to tag availability in the other unit/zone. Please note that if an exchange is an option, the hunter will need to return the original tag to IDFG before receiving the new tag. Tags may be exchanged at IDFG offices and by mail. Some tags may be exchanged online during a returned tag sale.

Question: What is the period for me to do an exchange?

Answer: Tag exchanges for units/zones that are not sold out are allowed before the beginning of any portion of the hunting season of the tag held. Exchanges can be done via mail and in-person at IDFG regional offices. Online exchanges can be completed during returned tag sales. More information on returned tag sales, including sale dates, can be found at idfg.idaho.gov/tag/returns.

Question: I bought a regular deer tag but meant to get a white-tailed deer tag. How does that work?

Answer: Check the current Big Game Seasons and Rules brochure to see which tag you want before exchanging. If the nonresident deer limit has not sold out, contact IDFG at licenses@idfg.idaho.gov.
